RE: Dr. Marty Henderson

To Whom It May Concern:

I have been using the services of VetImage, which is a mobile ultrasound service in southern California for several years. One of the veterinarians that I have had the pleasure of working with has been Dr. Marty Henderson.

Dr. Henderson does a thorough, professional and accurate ultrasound exam with a professional follow-up of a faxed description of the examination, with probable rule outs and treatment suggestions. The value of this type of service is substantial in that the clients have the service performed at the clinic where their pets are treated, they have follow up with their own veterinarian, and a diagnosis is often achieved by a non invasive procedure.

If you have not had the benefit of mobile ultrasound service in the past, I strongly suggest that you try Dr. Henderson's mobile service and evaluate the value for both your clients and your practice.

Sincerely,
